FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Unique Wood Bat Baseball Tournament Comes to Oklahoma City

Oklahoma City, OK (June 1, 2009) – High school baseball students will get a rare opportunity to compete with wood bats in the third annual Zorian Bat Company “Live, Love, Play” Wood Bat Tournament. Scheduled for June 17-20 at three locations in Oklahoma City, the tournament is open to non-graduating high school students in the Oklahoma City area.

“I wanted to give local baseball players the chance to play in a competitive tournament using wood bats, just like the Major Leaguers,” said Robert Zorian, president of Zorian Bat Company. “Most high school athletes play with aluminum bats and don’t have many opportunities to play with wood bats where you can really improve your offensive and defensive skills.”

Though Zorian Bat Company, a professional wood bat and accessories company, is based out of Rhode Island, Zorian wants to give back to the community he grew up in. Zorian was raised in Weatherford where he played high school baseball and was named to the prestigious Oklahoma All-State Baseball Team.

“Oklahoma has some of the best high school baseball players in the nation, and this tournament provides college coaches and professional scouts the opportunity to evaluate that talent more effectively because wood is the ultimate equalizer,” said Zorian. “Hitters, pitchers, and defensive players alike are easier to set apart in wood bat play.”

The tournament will be played at Carl Albert High School at 2009 South Post Road in Midwest City; Rose State College at 6420 S.E. 15th Street in Midwest City; and Putnam City High School at 5300 NW 50th Street in Oklahoma City. The “Live, Love, Play” tournament fee is $295 per team. The winning team will receive wood bat trophies made from Major League stock. Zorian Sport engages in the manufacturing, distribution, and marketing of professional wood bats, batting gloves, and accessories. The company sells directly to professional baseball players, agents, specialty sporting good dealers, and online retailers. The company also owns and operates Zorian Sport “Live, Love, Play” baseball tournaments, showcases, and camps. The Zorian Sport company was founded in 2003 by Robert Zorian, and is headquartered in Cranston, Rhode Island. For more information, log on to <http://www.zorianbats.com/>.
